The XJS was one of the most popular Jaguars ever made. The first one was designed by its British manufacturer with safety regulations in mind in 1975 as a grand tourer coupe. This 1990 Jaguar XJS convertible is powered by a 5.3-liter V12 backed by a 3-speed automatic transmission and is finished in Glacier White with a black top and a Barley leather interior. Jagbits is a USA family owned and operated company and has been in business since 1996. We have the largest inventory of new, rebuilt, and used parts, in fact we have the absolute largest used Jaguar parts inventory in the world. We are able to supply virtually any part you need for your 1979 to current model year Jaguar. "The perfect balance between sympathetic restoration and touches of modernity makes this exceptional Mk I the ultimate classic Jaguar driving experience. " For sale, 1959 Jaguar Mark 1, 3.4 litre, right hand drive, from Sayer Selection Ltd, UK.
